

Area Highlights

Meramec Conservation Area/Arthur G. Heyne Memorial Annex is located in southern Franklin County. From I-44 near Sullivan, take Highway 185 south approximately 5 miles to entrance.

Much of the land for the area was purchased by the state between 1925 and 1930. In 1980, 166 additional acres were donated by Dorothy Hill in memory of Arthur Heyne. The Meramec River borders the west side of the area. Scenic overlooks provide a view of the river valley and surrounding hills. The area is mainly forested.

During your visit to Meramec Conservation Area, you may explore the .1-mile Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) trail, the 1.3-mile disabled accessible trail, the 5.5-mile hiking trail and the 10.5-mile multiple-use trail. Historic sites include the town of Reedville, the first state nursery, CCC Camp 2728, Lone Hill fire lookout tower and old mines. Brochures for the historic CCC camp can be found at the camp site.
